The injured-workers population includes workers who:

- Have an active claim.
- Reside in the State of Washington.

Process to locate the injured worker's address in a map (geocoding injured worker's addresses):

- We used a composite address locator that uses the ESRI street address, and the ESRI zip address locators.

The process to map the location of an injured worker is as follows:

1. Residential street address, if not found, then
 - 1.1. Residential zip code, if not found, then
 - 1.1.1. Washington State mailing address, if not found, then
 - 1.1.2. Washington State mailing zip code.

Assigning a county to an injured worker's address:

- We assigned the county based on the ESRI County map and the located addresses.

Process to locate providers

- We used the same composite address locator that we used for the workers (ESRI street address, and the ESRI zip address locators).
- The process to map the location of a provider is as follows:
 1. Provider location street address, if not found, then
 - 1.1. Provider zip code.
